Take Back Control of Your Weight

Slenderiiz Drops balance three hormones related to your appetite, helping you drop the pounds.

Hunger Hormone
Ghrelin

Balanced levels properly signal hunger.

Stress
Hormone
Cortisol

Balanced levels prevent stress-related overeating.

Fullness
Hormone
Leptin

Balanced levels signal fullness in your brain.

Impact of Blood Sugar and Hormones

Taking Slenderix & Xceler8 Drops, while following the Body Balance System, helps maintain blood sugar levels and balance hormones — such as insulin, leptin, ghrelin and cortisol — so you can reach your wellness goals

Sugar

Hormones

Brain
Excessive sugar lights up the reward center making it difficult to cut out

Skin
Excessive sugar accelerates skin aging

Heart
High blood sugar levels can harden arteries and damage heart tissues

Liver
The liver converts surplus sugar into fat. Overloading with sugar is similar to overloading with alcohol

Fat Cells
Excess insulin in your blood stream, caused by your body absorbing too much sugar, can cause weight gain

Brain
Excessive cortisol secretion raises or lowers your mood

Stomach
Ghrelin sends "I'm hungry" signals to the brain

Digestive System
Excess cortisol can slow digestion

Waist
Excessive cortisol can increase insulin production, which can cause weight gain

Fat Cells
Larger fat cells produce more leptin, which can cause your brain to not recognize that "I'm full" feeling
