Partnering With the Best

When preventative medicine physician, Dr. Ray Strand, searched for supplements and superfoods that could enrich his patients' lives with “cellular nutrition,” he discovered an absence of wellness solutions that he could wholeheartedly recommend. Instead, he found a sea of ineffective products with harmful ingredients, non-efficacious dosages or trendy formulas with no proven results.

So, in collaboration with an elite group of scientists, nutritionists and medical doctors, he set out to create his own.

Rooted in the philosophy that when you care for your cells, everything else in your body finds balance, we craft formulas that work — real products, real results. Ray Strand, MD
